

UNIVERSITY of NICOSIA

Guest Lecturers

Tezos – Kathleen & Arthur Breitman

BLOC 611: Introduction to Decentralized Finance

Kathleen Breitman

Kathleen Breitman is the co-creator of Tezos.

- Kathleen was a senior strategy associate for R3, a blockchain consortium of more than 50 finance firms. She also worked at Accenture, Bridgewater Associates, and the Wall Street Journal.
- Kathleen studied at NUY and Cornell.

Twitter

Kathleen Breitman

Arthur Breitman is the co-creator of Tezos.

- Arthur was a research engineer for Google X and Waymo. In his early career, he worked as a quantitative analyst for Goldman Sachs and Morgan Stanley.
- Arthur studied applied mathematics in the École Polytechnique and the NYU.

Twitter

Kathleen Breitman

Tezos is an open-source, community-governed, blockchain network that facilitates censorship resistance, decentralization, and user-control.

- Tezos employs novel Self-Amendment and Upgradability Mechanisms.
- Tezos utilizes a Proof-of-Stake consensus algorithm